MACON, GEORGIA

Foreword

In this volume the Annual Staff attempts to mirror for your life at Miller and Lanier during the school year of 1950-51.

This year we have chosen as our theme the city of Macon. Since the City Hall is the center of all activities of Macon, we have selected this building to introduce the theme of our annual.

A close bond exists between a school and its community, for a school is a vital part of the city in which it is located. The character of a school--its traditions, its goals, its achievements--is shaped largely by the municipal institutions, colleges, churches, newspapers, libraries, and other cultural forces. To introduce each section we have selected historical points of interest to show the inter-relationship of our Senior High Schools and Macon.

It is our sincere hope that, in this book, the moments special to you have been memorable preserved so that in the years to come these pages will hold as much interest for you as they did the first time they were opened.

This book expresses, I believe, the spirit of Lanier better than any other publication.

It records your activities, competitive and otherwise, your range of interests, your sense of humor, and your pride in the school.

To the editors, business managers, and members of the Senior Class and to all who had a hand in its theme and lay-out, let me add my congratulations and best wishes. In years to come may you use it in recalling the memories of your happy high school days.

PRINCIPAL'S MESSAGE

Your Annual presents an accurate and interesting picture of your school in all the phases of school activities. This year you have lived up to the tradition of striving always to improve by producing a book that is superior as an expression of the Miller spirit.

Congratulations are due to the Staff, the Students, the Advisors, and the Faculty for your cooperation and industry, which are so necessary in an undertaking that has produced such excellent results.

With best wishes for all who read this book, I hope it will always recall to you the happy times you have had at Miller.

Seniors

We have chosen the inspiring towers of two historic colleges, Wesleyan College and Mercer University, to introduce the Seniors. These towers well symbolize the immediate goal of many of our graduates.

Wesleyan has the distinction of being the first chartered college in the world to confer degrees upon women. Chartered in 1836, the school has grown so steadily that in 1922 the college bought land for a Greater Wesleyan to be located at Rivoli. The towers of the old college, today known as the Wesleyan Conservatory of Music and Fine Arts, command a never-to-be-forgotten view of a city known as the Heart of Georgia.

Mercer University, founded in 1833 at Penfield, Georgia, was named for the Reverend Jesse Mercer, a Baptist minister and philanthropist. The school was moved to Macon in 1871 and today, as in the years since its founding, it is recognized as an outstanding small religious college. It is the oldest theological institution in the South and the third oldest in the United States.

Underclasses

The Washington Memorial Library emphasizes the intellectual contribution it makes to both school and community. It is recognized as an outstanding library and as a center for literary forums, art exhibits, and lectures of various kinds.

In 1916 Ellen Washington Bellamy gave to the city a lot across from Wesleyan Conservatory as a memorial to her brother, Hugh Vernon Washington. Later she added a generous contribution to her original gift.

The library was opened to the public in 1923. Since that time it has continued to contribute vitally to the cultural growth of the citizens of Macon.

Superlatives

We thought it most proper and fitting to introduce our Superlative section with the home of Sidney Lanier, Macon's distinguished citizen. We also have captured for you some of the lovely spots inside the home, for we took these pictures inside the Lanier Cottage.

Here on High Street in 1842 was born Macon's most famous citizen, soldier, musician, and poet. His "Marshes of Glynn" and many other immortal lyrics have brought fame to Macon and to the South.

Macon's two Boys' High Schools are appropriately named in memory of the great poet. In proper ceremonies he was named in 1945 to the Hall of Fame of New York University.

Sports

We have selected two places, the Municipal Auditorium and Porter Stadium to feature our Sport pages. Both are well known to citizens of Macon and middle Georgia, for both are the scenes of events in the field of sports and in that of entertainment of all kinds.

The Auditorium, completed in 1925, is an imposing building of limestone, built in the Greek Renaissance Style. It boasts the largest copper dome in the world. On the first floor the mural depicting the early history of Macon is of interest to all.

The need for an athletic field was first felt by Mercer University officials and several civic organizations. As a result of their efforts, the Stadium was completed in 1925; since then it has been the scene of various kinds of entertainments. It was named for Mr. James Hyde Porter, a leading industrialist and philanthropist.

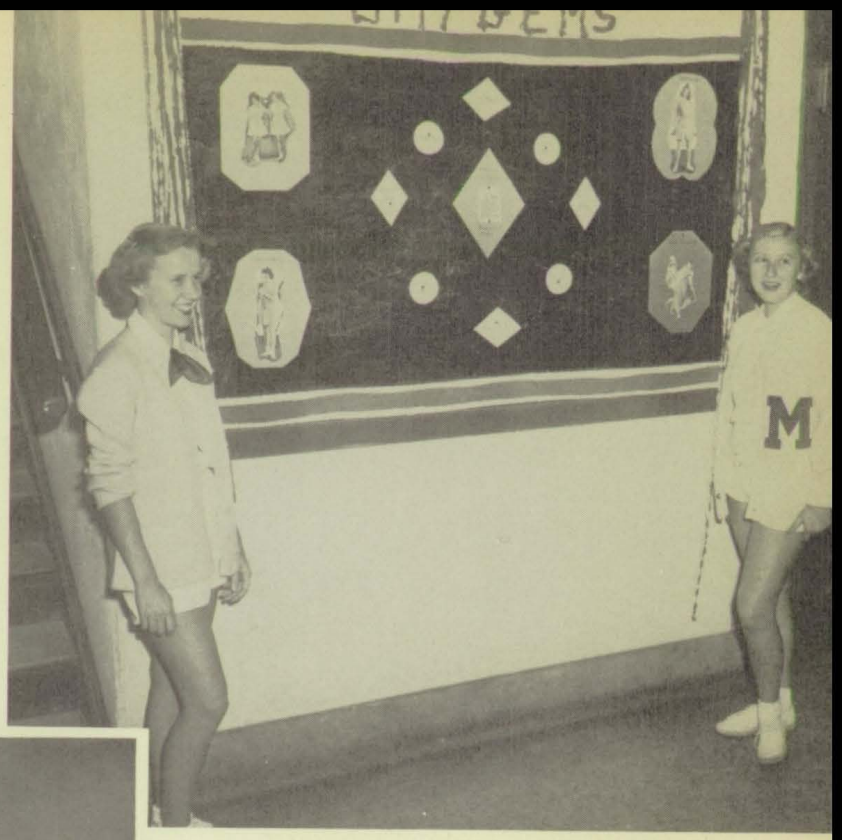
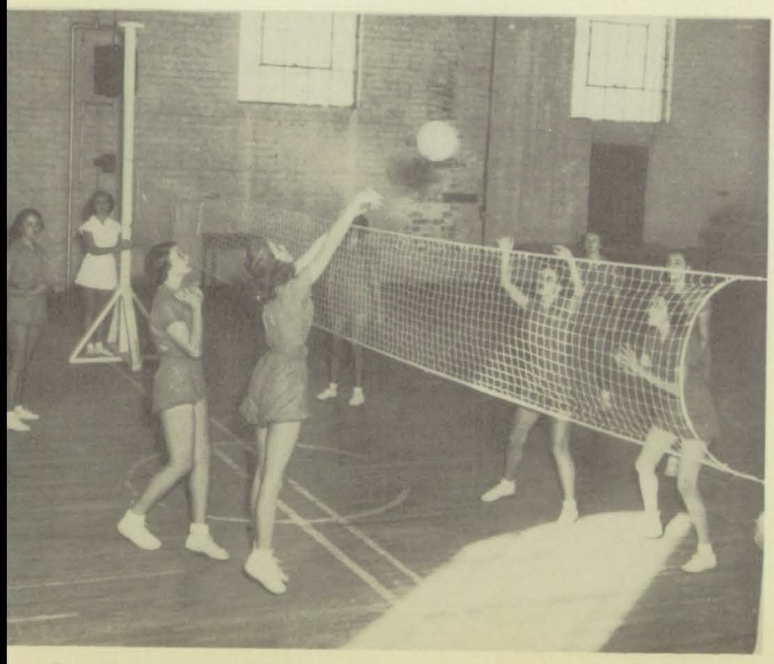
MILLER ATHLETICS

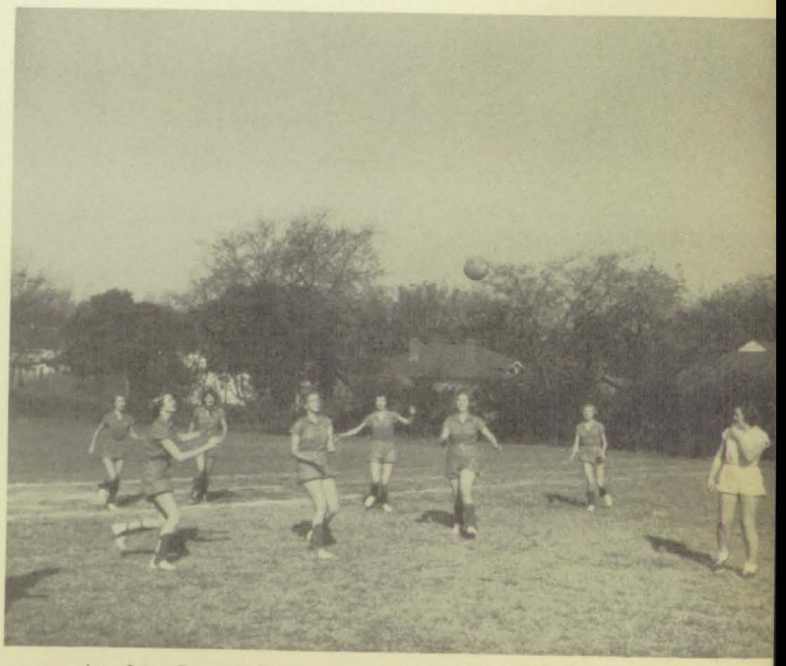


Barbara Starnes and Ann Wadley pause by the Gym Bulletin Board to catch up on the latest news.

Lining up for a practice shot are these girls who are members of a class in archery.



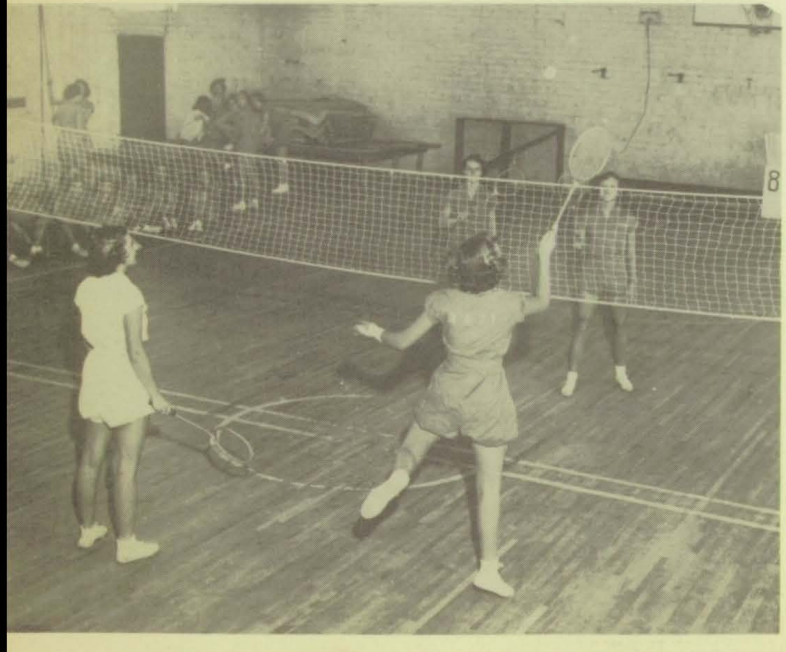
In the fall volleyball is one of the sports loved by every Miller girl.



At this Speed Ball game the girls excitedly rush forward for a chance to kick.

It's a jump—and a long stretch to put the basketball back in motion.

Congratulations to our Tennis champ—Margie Saunders, and to the runner-up—Shirley Mason.



Badminton, one of the recreational sports, gives an opportunity for ballet practice too.

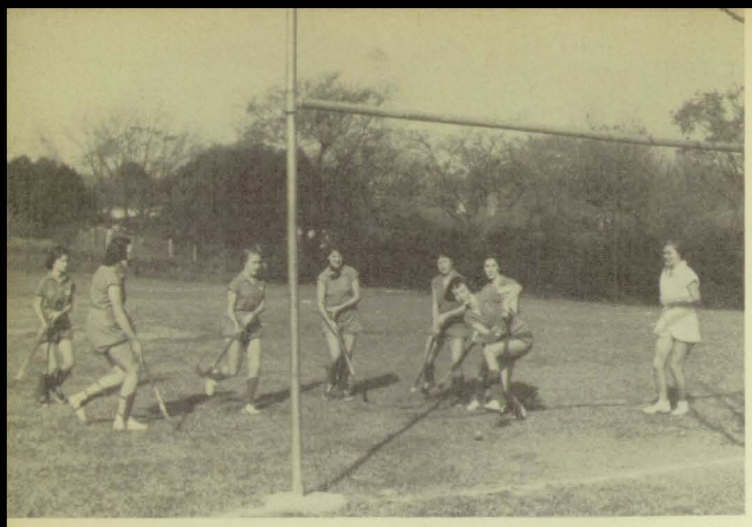
These girls are practicing for the Spring Ping Pong tournament.

Frances Blackwell looks on as Barbara Stone takes her turn in this shuffleboard game.

Faye Jordan starts the ball rolling in the Bowling Tournament held at the Macon Bowling Center.

Mary Lowe shouts "Strike Three" as Peggy Carlisle completely misses the ball.

The pin looks so unguarded as the ball comes closer.



This forward tries very hard to get that all important point in this field hockey game.

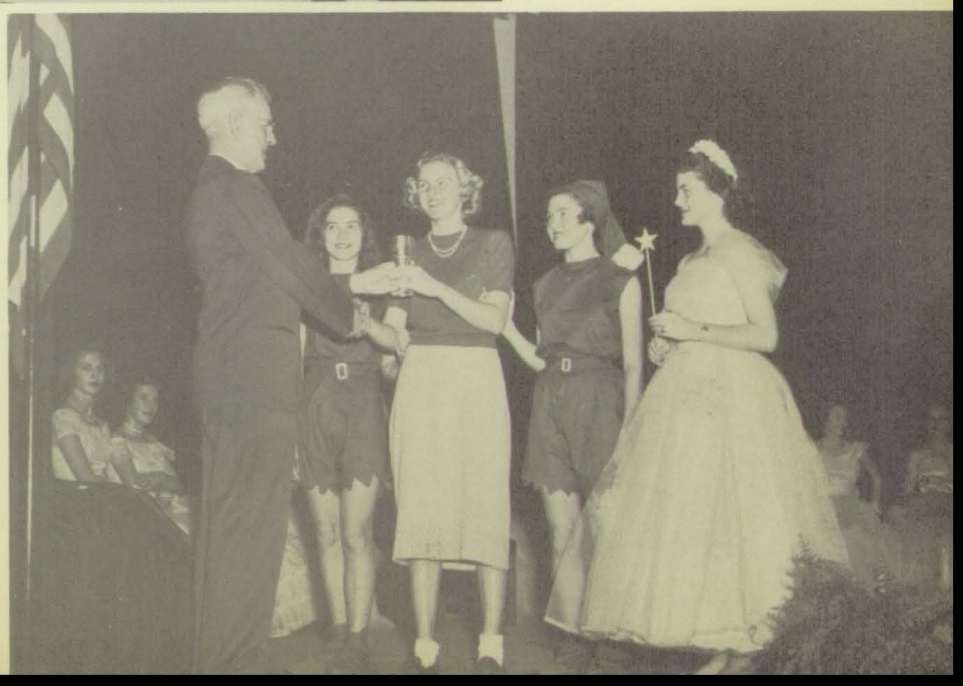
The kick-off and another soccer game begins!

Mary Kendricks surrounded by other majorettes, Ann Cheek, Janice Crawford, Captain Thea Weir, Betty Matthews and Zona Holliday, performs with her baton at Miller's Open House.

Her majesty, Queen Audrey Smith, and her court sit on the stage as the curtain opens on the exhibition assembly. The highlights—the announcement of the '51 Exhibition Officers!

With her Fairy Wand, the beautiful queen taps Shirley Garrett to the extreme delight of Jane Cole.



Mr. Lasseter presents the Nora Krenson Memorial Trophy to Colonel Margie Saunders, who is bodily supported by the elves —the queen's helpers.

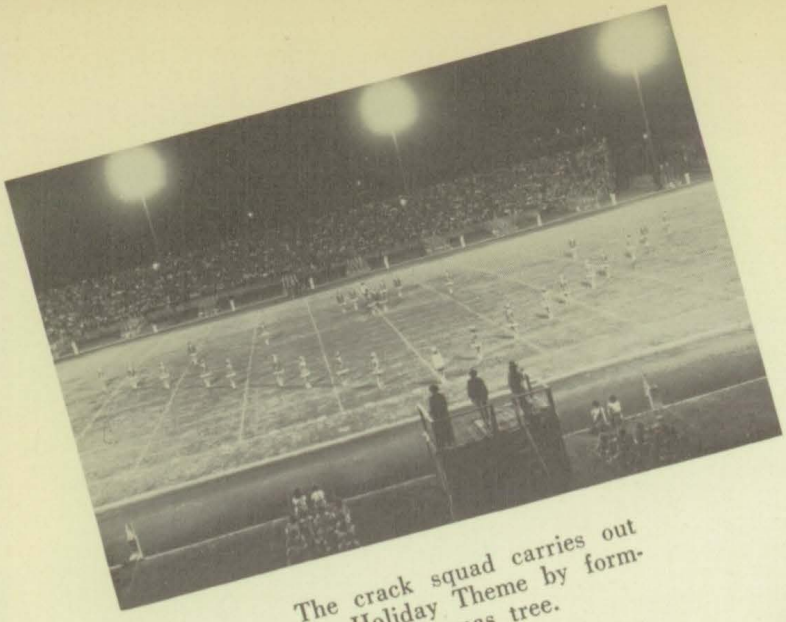
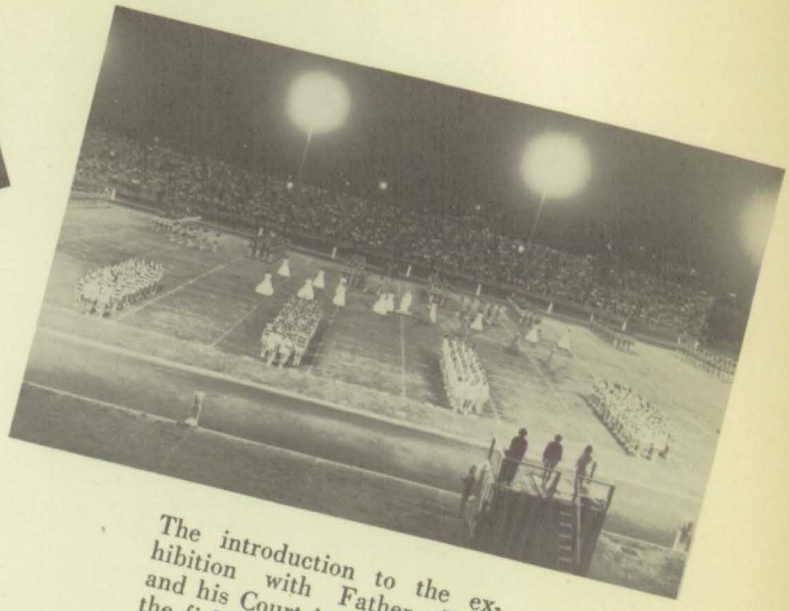
Scenes from the Exhibition

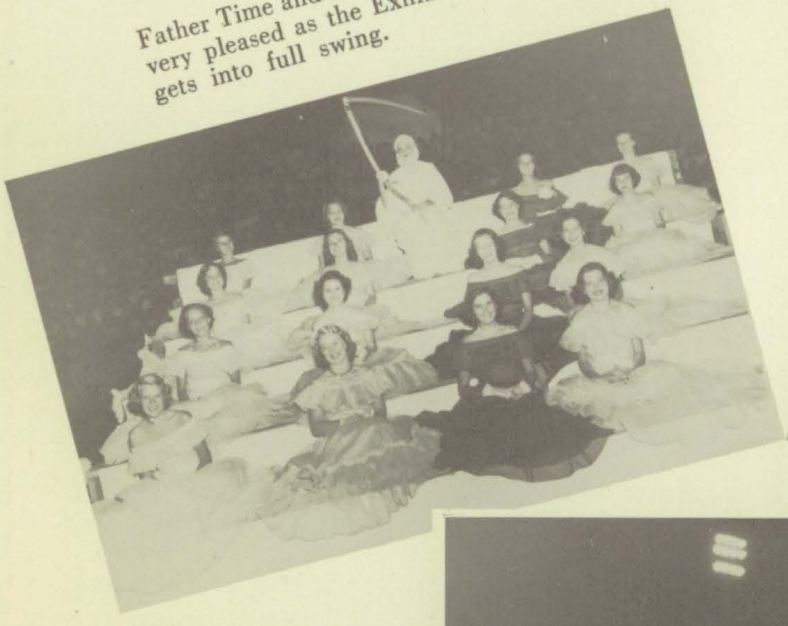


The crack squad carries out the Holiday Theme by forming a Christmas tree.

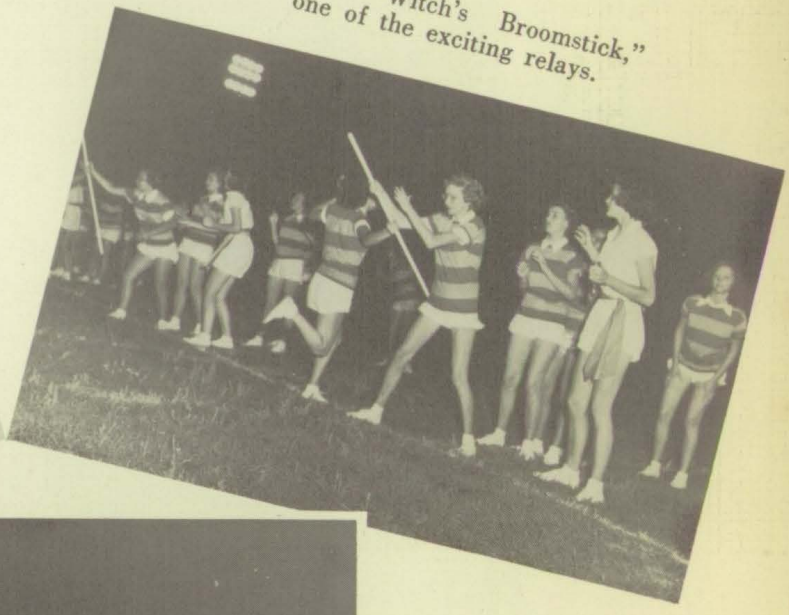


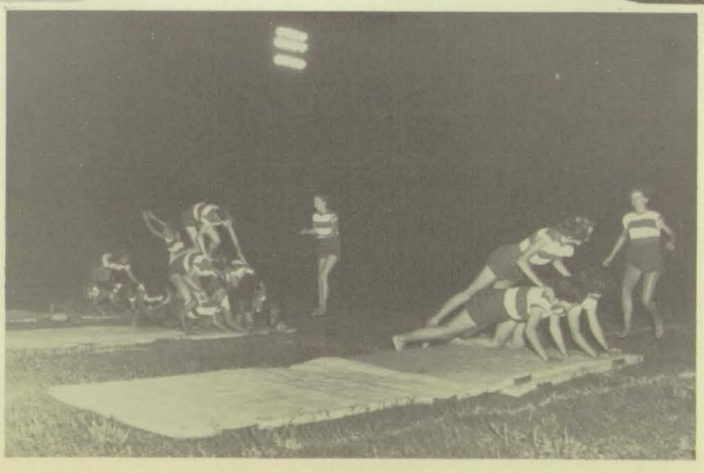
The introduction to the exhibition with Father Time and his Court in the center of the field.

Father Time and his court look very pleased as the Exhibition gets into full swing.



"The Witch's Broomstick," one of the exciting relays.





The tumblers show the results of long hours of training.

Social Activities

Since this beautiful home during the mid-nineteenth century was the scene of many outstanding social events, we have selected it to introduce our sororities and fraternities. Built in 1842 by Judge Thaddeus Goode Holt, it is one of the loveliest of the old colonial homes of which Macon is so justly proud. Located on Georgia Avenue, it is one of the many beautiful homes around Wesleyan. An excellent example of Greek Revival architecture, it is now owned and occupied by Mrs. A. M. Peeler.

School Activities

The historic Macon Telegraph Building has long exerted a great influence in molding school and community into a closer relationship. The Telegraph has served as an inspiration to high school journalism, one of the more important extracurricular activities represented in this section. Today, as in 1826, the Telegraph has been printed continuously since its founding, and many of the nation's leading journalists and writers have begun their careers on the staff of this paper.

Realizing the part that Fort Hawkins has played in the beginning and in the development of the city of Macon, we have chosen this old blockhouse to introduce Lanier's Military Department.

Fort Hawkins was built in 1806 at the recommendation of Benjamin Hawkins, an outstanding Indian agent, on the old Ocmulgee Fields. Originally it was used as a trade center and as a place for the transaction of business between the Indians and Indian agents. Later it served as a supply base and as quarters for armies being sent west or south in the war of 1812. On the site of one of the original blockhouses, this well known replica of the Fort Hawkins Blockhouse was reconstructed by the Nathaniel Macon Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution.

Mercer University

If You Belong to One of These Groups:

1. HIGH SCHOOL STUDENTS about to be graduated
2. A TEACHER needing further professional training
3. FUTURE Religious Workers

THIS INFORMATION may have important value for you.

1. The Summer Quarter, June 11-August 19, will offer a full schedule of standard courses for entering Freshmen, who thus may begin without loss of time from their college career.
2. Both pre-service and in-service programs for elementary and secondary teachers and principals now offered every quarter in an expanded teacher-training program. Special Workshop June 11-July 13. Child guidance clinic.
3. Mercer offers, in the Roberts School of Christianity, collegiate training for ministers and training for non-ministerial religions leadership in such types of service as Church Secretary, Education Director and Young People's Leader.
4. The nationally accredited Law School has built up a competent faculty and is broadening its curriculum. Registration has more than quadrupled since it resumed operation in September, 1945.
5. New departments added to the Liberal Arts College in recent years provide opportunities for study in the fields of Drama, Music, Painting, and Sculpture.

For More Than A Century

Mercer has been a good place to go for an education. In physical equipment—dormitories, gymnasium, laboratories, libraries; in financial status; in faculty and staff; in outlook and spirit, Mercer is better off today than ever before.
